NASHVILLE CHAPTER OF THE AMERICAN GUILD OF ORGANISTS
MAY 2024

NOTES FROMM DON

A Butterfly...

A recurring dream for me is that my enjoyment of gardening won't be hit or miss. It will seem as though I have two green thumbs. Plants will flourish no matter how and where I put them. My lawn will be green and thick, with no weeds or mismatched grass. People will walk by commenting on how glorious it all looks.

Unfortunately, I don't expect this dream to come true anytime soon. I continue to battle with unwanted vines, weeds, insects, and the like. Some days I feel I am winning, and other days—well, let's just say I won't get an award for an outstanding garden or yard. But with this fantasy of my yard being the envy of all comes an interest in reading about the topic. One magazine that is intent on letting me in on the secrets of the perfect garden had a quote by Nathaniel Hawthorne that I liked:

Happiness is like a butterfly which, when pursued, is always beyond our grasp, but, if you will sit down quietly, may alight upon you.

Like my wishes for my garden, I find I often come to worship with my "wants." I reduce it to what I need rather than meeting and experiencing God. So often we come to worship with needs, hurts, or even joys, and we demand God's attention. But perhaps if, as in Hawthorne's quote, we sit down quietly and center our minds and hearts to come before the living God, then God's presence and word might "alight upon" us. We don't need to pursue God, as God is always with us. But our fast-paced lives and frenetic existences don't always allow us to remember that.

Our final chapter meeting will be a Service of Solemn Evensong including the Spicer Responses, choral anthems by Wood, Rutter, and Hansen, and congregational singing, including the classic hymn “How Shall I Sing That Majesty.” Kristen Hansen will be the service organist, and Andrew Risinger will conduct the Sanctuary Choir of West End United Methodist Church. The service will also include the installation of new officers.

The Sanctuary Choir of West End United Methodist Church sings for the weekly 8:45 a.m. service at West End. Consisting of approximately 24 singers, both volunteer and professional, this group also offers seasonal services of Evensong and on occasion collaborates with West End's Chancel Choir in performing concerts.

Andrew Risinger is organist and associate minister of music of West End United Methodist Church and an adjunct member of the music faculty at Belmont University. He earned degrees from Baylor University, where he studied organ with Joyce Jones, and from the University of Alabama, where he studied organ with J. Warren Hutton and choral conducting with Sandra Willetts. Risinger is organ curator for the Schermerhorn Symphony Center and organist for the Nashville Symphony. A prizewinner in several competitions, he has given recitals throughout the United States. His performances have been heard on National Public Radio broadcasts of Performance Today as well as on Pipedreams.

When you look at the world, there is seemingly a crush of information on how to achieve happiness or where to find it. However, it usually results in you exchanging money for someone's book or CD, getting a little nip and tuck from the surgeon, wearing the latest fashions, or driving the most expensive car. Ultimately, like the butterfly, our perceived happiness flutters away. I think Hawthorne knew the human nature of wanting something and pursuing it to have it now.

The ability to make music is a real gift from God. It doesn't always come easily or quickly. But when we take the time to work hard and dig deeper, that elusive butterfly alights upon us, and we experience God finding true joy in what we play or sing in service. The music we offer gives wings not only to our own souls and innermost thoughts, but also to those who listen.

I hope that you might live your life a little less frenetically, take time to center yourself, and truly enjoy your gift of music as you share it with others. As God is in your creating, God is also in worship and the world. So, the next time I am eradicating a weed with vengeance, I'm going to take a moment to enjoy God's creation in the flower or leaf nearby. I hope you take a moment to find God in your world.

Take care—Don

1951: Virgil Fox (Vanderbilt Neely Auditorium)

1980s: Marie-Claire Alain, Catherine Crozier, Marilyn Keiser, Paul Manz, Gillian Weir (West End UMC), and Marilyn Mason (First Baptist Church)

2006 onward: Gerre Hancock, Bruce Neswick, John Scott, Calvin Taylor, Bálint Karosi, Doug Cleveland, Janette Fishell, Isabelle Demers, Carol Williams, and Olivier Latry (West End UMC)

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

by Jennie Smith

LISA BARRY inherited her interest in music from her mother, who was a pianist, and her father, who was a longtime band director in Nashville. Lisa and her four siblings all had to study piano. After graduating from Belmont College with a music degree, she was a missionary for two years at North Brazil Baptist Theological Seminary, where she taught organ and accompanied the choirs and voice students. She became fluent in Portuguese. Later, she obtained her master's degree from Scarritt, studying with Wilma Jensen.

Lisa has worked for 15 years at the United Methodist Publishing House in intellectual property, where she is the expert on all book author contracts and royalties, including the royalties and licensing for the United Methodist Hymnal. She is a watercolorist and loves reading, walking, and volleyball. She gave up her church job for Lent.

ROBERT KLINGBEIL grew up in Marietta, Georgia, graduated from Rhodes College as a music major, attended seminary for a year and a half, realized that wasn't for him, and then earned a master's degree in piano from the University of Memphis. He was organist and choir director for nine years at First Presbyterian Church in Memphis.

Having been adopted as a child, when he married and he and his wife were expecting their first child, he became interested in finding his father. Through acquaintances and his work at Steinway, at age 32 he found his biological father, who was living in California—and was also a musician and working at Steinway! Both now work at Steinway in Nashville. Such a happy story.

Robert is the consummate all-American father of two boys, loves camping, their golden retriever, and working with the Cub and Boy Scouts.

BE AMBASSADORS

Our chapter presents many outstanding programs featuring excellent choral and organ music. Some by our own members and others by renowned artists. We need your help to spread the word. If you have a position in a church, we encourage you to include an invitation to our events in your newsletters, bulletins, and email blasts to attend the programs that follow the dinner. We especially encourage you to invite your choir members to our events. If you are in a school setting, invite your students. What an opportunity to bring a new audience to the organ! Our programs are listed in each issue of Pipelines and on our website. If you want more information, just ask. Do become an ambassador for our chapter and help us to reach out into the Nashville community.

THE BULLETIN BOARD - MEMBER NEWS & SUNDRIES

We thank Dale Nickell for recording and uploading the February 5 Members' Recital to our YouTube channel. Please visit NashvilleAGO.org, scroll down, and click the link to our YouTube channel to hear the recital. Please encourage others to visit.

The daughter of a New Jersey Ford Motor Company CEO and a schoolteacher named Iris, Siri (Iris retrograde) Sokol was born with perfect pitch in 1953. A disappointed Girl Scout Brownie recruited for the Ed Sullivan Show but preempted by the Beatles found her way into the heart of Maestro Eugene Ormandy of the Philadelphia Orchestra in 1964 to appear with young David Finckle as a Young Persons Concerto winner. Spanning the next few decades with numerous concerto performances throughout the Tri-State Area, Miss Siri performed her "swan song," the Schumann Piano Concerto, in a gala 40th anniversary symphony concert in honor of her father, who served on the Board of Directors of their hometown community orchestra. Dr. Sokol has been a member of the New Haven Chapter of the AGO for nearly 20 years since leaving the faculty of Marist College, where she directed the Chapel Choir as a leave replacement in 2007.

Ken Varner is the Worship and Music Associate/Organist at Nashville First Baptist Church. We are glad to welcome him back to the chapter.

The Chattanooga AGO Chapter is hosting a POE+ (Pipe Organ Encounters for Adults) June 9–14, 2024. If you are interested in attending, you may go to their website, agochattanooga.org/poeplus, or ask Don Marler to email you a brochure. Also, consider encouraging someone you know who may have an interest in the organ to attend.

YOUR GIFTS CAN BENEFIT OUR CHAPTER

Nashville AGO members and friends are encouraged to make an extra contribution to either help underwrite the programs for the year or support the Endowment or Discretionary Funds. This may be done at NashvilleAGO.org, AGOhq.org, or by check. Your gift may also be made in memory or honor of someone. If you use a credit card, consider making your donation through the national website, as it saves our chapter the credit card expense. You do this by logging into your account then choosing “make a contribution”; from there, scroll down and you will see the funds for the Nashville Chapter.

Why are we encouraging you to give extra to the chapter? Our budget has various sources of income to support its expenditures. The budgeted income from additional gifts to the general fund for chapter expenses is $4,000. However, to date we have only received $1,130. Pre-COVID, we did receive the budgeted amount. So we are greatly under the amount needed to fully fund our budget. Any amount you contribute to the General Fund (chapter expenses) would be greatly appreciated.

Your additional support helps our chapter champion outstanding organ and choral music in our city. We wish to thank these people who have already contributed, and we hope others will join.
